Airbnb Inc

Airbnb is an online application that connects hosts with travelers, to collaboratively achieve a unique experience. Find and book your accommodation quickly and easily from your mobile, tablet or computer. In one click you will have millions of options to choose from around the world

Airbnb is the online application that has changed the way you travel. Based on the collaborative consumer business model, it unites people who want to rent their home, or room, with those travelers who need accommodation.

It was born in 2008, when its two designers and founders, Brian Chesky and Joe Gebbia, decided to rent part of the apartment they shared in order to make ends meet. With this idea they set up a website and would offer their home to travelers who needed it to stay temporarily. This is how 'Air bed and breakfast', Airbnb, emerges, operating in more than 200 countries around the world.

Today Airbnb is one of the companies with the most benefits, with revenues that exceed 2,600 million dollars, becoming the main competition of traditional hospitality.

Today, there are millions of people who decide to choose this option, hosts and travelers, and make their vacations unforgettable. The application is for free download for Android and iOS millions and its use is very easy and intuitive.

As the owner you will have the possibility of getting extra money, Airbnb keeps 10% of the payment amount, and travelers can have a more personal experience of the place living in their own house, without the impersonality of the hotels. In addition, you will always have the advice to know what to do and see in the city. This is one of the great advantages, clients deal directly with the owners.

The services offered by Airbnb guarantee total confidence and security, providing its users with all the help they need. This is done through the verification of all the profiles and advertisements that are registered in the portal, making the communication and transaction in a secure environment.

To register as a host is as simple as entering the app, click on the option "Become a host" and fill in the form they offer you. As a curiosity, Airbnb does not force you to rent the entire property, you can indicate which parts you want to share and which ones you don't.

But if you are looking to travel around the world, with Airbnb it is also very simple. The first thing to keep in mind is to use the app's search engine to indicate the date, place and how many people there would be, depending on this you will have different accommodation options.

It is possible to filter the entire search and customize it as you want, once you have selected the accommodation it is as easy as booking it. This process is very similar to what you would do when doing it in a hotel, with the only difference that it is for an individual.

It is very important to read all the information about the apartments before reserving it, keeping in mind: the total price, the map, if the dates coincide with the fact that it is free and the description of everything it offers, this point is very important and then not take surprises. Another important point you should look at is cancellation, Airbnb has four policies on this point: flexible, moderate, strict and super-strict. Depending on the type, they may return the full money or only a part if you decide to cancel the reservation, depending on the days in advance you do it.

Airbnb has plenty of discount codes that you can use on your trips and keep saving. Also the ease of accepting different payment methods, varying depending on the country in which we are located.

It has a section of evaluation of the houses, where you will be able to see the score that each one has to know how to decide and not make mistakes. It is possible that the host ask for a security deposit, for the damages that may be caused to the house, which Airbnb will charge you in the event that they put a claim on you.

On Airbnb you find two types of reservation: immediate reservation, it has a lightning bolt symbol and it is confirmed instantly, or reservation request, it is sent to the host and he has 24 hours to confirm whether he accepts it or not. From Airbnb it is recommended to write directly to the owner to ask about its availability before sending any request, although if you send it and then you regret nothing happens, it can be removed at any time without any penalty.

If the host does not accept the request, you will not be charged anything, the money is retained until the owner decides on the reservation. Airbnb has a Help Center 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, in 11 languages, where they will answer any questions that may arise to ensure that everything is perfect on your vacation and you do not have to worry about anything.
