

Review TiKToK

ByteDance

It is an application that allows you to record short videos, generally with musical dubbing, dances, clips or humorous scenes. The application is free and can be installed for iOS and Android devices. If you create an account you can interact with other users like follow, like, comment and more. You can also share content from there on other known platforms

The TikTok, previously called Musical.ly, is an application that allows you to record short videos, generally with musical dubbing, dances, clips, or humorous scenes. The application reached the list of the most downloaded in the United States in the month of October, with 130 million users, and being in front of Instagram and Facebook. The service is feverish among the young Asian public, especially among the Chinese, but it is also successful in Brazil. Famous influencers on other social networks, such as Winderson Nunes, have already hit the 200,000 fan mark on the TikTok.

TikTok is an application for Android and iPhone (iOS) directed exclusively for the recording and publication of short videos, which can take from 15 to 60 seconds, with dubbing as the main focus. The most famous dubbing is mostly done by people using a humorous tone or doing dance choreography. It is also allowed to record videos without the dubbing function, using the audio from the microphone. The application has a social network format and users can follow the profiles of others, enjoy, comment, and share publications. To access, it is possible to use email or data from Facebook, Google, or Twitter.

To perform the dubbing, the user can access an extensive catalog of TikTok itself, which offers national and international songs. The tracks are separated by category, among the most famous of the moment or by musical genre. When viewing a video from a friend, the app also displays the artist's name and the music used in that dub, so that the user also has access to it. When recording a video or sending a file from the gallery, it is possible to mix the volume of the ambient sound and the chosen track to create an ideal loudness.

The first thing you should do is Download TikTok Free and install the application. When you are inside the official website and download the app, and the download process is finished, you can click and open the app. You will be asked if you allow notifications and this is how the application will work. You just need to scroll down to see the following people and their videos. So if you scroll up, you will return to the previous ones if you really liked it. If you want to update this main page, scroll down to the bottom. Once you like someone's videos, you can't interact with them if you don't have an account - these services are available to people with existing TikTok accounts.

Another way to create a TikTok account is at the bottom of the page, it has nice symbols that represent Home - with a house building, search - with a magnifying glass, you have more, which is the button to create a video, which has your message tab where you can see your messages and has your profile icon.

For those who need to create a TikTok account here the steps:

You can use the phone or email or you can use Facebook, Google, or Twitter. TikTok requires you to be at least 12 years old, so go ahead and type in your birthday, then you will have to type and send an email or phone number on this page, you will get a four-digit code on your phone and go ahead and type that and It will create a TikTok account for you.

Let's talk about other people's videos: if you swipe to the left of the video you like, you will access your profile where you simply press Follow to follow that person. Now you can see all your videos below and click each one to upload and you can always scroll up to see more of your videos. This is how you see someone and you can go back to the home page and find another good TikTok user account or video. Sometimes you can follow TikTok accounts created by fans of, say, some sports team or association.

If you look at how to leave the comment, check the three dots- symbol on the right hand side and leave your comment there and just hit submit. You can like, comment, save, or whatever you want. There are many options you can explore to see how they work, just remember to be nice to people. It is also possible to share some of the TikTok content with other social media platforms. We can recommend that you search the web for TikTok videos and you will find many compilations on web platforms like YouTube for example.
