

Review Critical Ops

Critical Force Ltd.

Critical Ops is the perfect option for those fans of first-person shooter proposals. With a methodology very similar to that of Counter Strike, the Critical Force Ltd. game allows access, free of charge, to a dynamic and action-packed proposal

Critical Ops is a dynamic first person shooter game, it is very inspired by the conquests of the Valve studio. This is why it is sometimes referred to as a mobile adaptation to Counter-Strike: Global Offensive. The game was created by the Finnish studio Critical Force Entertainment, which has already produced a similar production, titled Critical Strike Portable.

The title debuted in the alpha version in 2015, after which it was systematically developed and expanded with new options. It is offered in a well thought-out free model with optional micropayments. These purchases are only cosmetic and therefore do not offer advantages to those who pay, guaranteeing a clean and competitive experience. It is undoubtedly one of the best among free downloadable games and applications.

Just as in the acclaimed Valve title, players take control of terrorists and counter-terrorists (divided into two camps known as the Coalition or The Brench) and must enter intelligently designed maps where they perform their tasks - such as disarming or planting a pump according to the side chosen. Critical Ops has an impressive arsenal of weapons (including pistols, machine guns, rifles, precision rifles, etc.), as well as various accessories (different types of grenades, bulletproof vests, and helmets). The shootings are carried out on various maps (Amsterdam, Barcelona, ??Tokyo, Mesa) and up to twenty players participate. These can be random users or groups of friends.

By downloading Critical Ops the user will have the possibility to create clans, as well as participate in tournaments (the creators put a lot of emphasis on this game alternative). Curiously, the title allows cross-platform games, overcoming differences in the precision of control of a delicate automatic target present on mobile devices.

The Critical Ops app can be proud of a high-quality three-dimensional graphic design. In particular, the level designs make a good impression, they are thoughtful, extensive and full of details thanks to which the charges take on character and can be played in various ways. The game also offers many possibilities in the field of control system customization, based on virtual analog buttons and buttons that appear on the screen. Nothing prevents players from changing their design to one that looks best to them.

Socialization and communication is one of the most careful aspects of the game, for this reason each attack must be carefully planned with your squad. Participating in the arduous shootings with your friends is one of the best options of this free application for Android and iOS. Additionally, to nurture the gaming community, title makers take it upon themselves to spread the best plays on their official YouTube channel.

Among the various Critical Ops game modes are: Deactivation, Team Deathmatch, Roulette Arms, Quick Match, Qualifying Match, Custom Match. In Deactivation, the two teams must ensure that one plant the pump and the other does not deactivate it. If the explosive detonates within the time limit of the round the terrorists win, the game is also ended if all members of one side are defeated. Death Battle mode is about eliminating enemies before a certain time expires. Weapon Roulette is a game in which users will use all the weapons in the game. Then the Games options refer to the particular configurations that each person wants to configure.

Critical Ops constantly receives updates that aim to improve the operation of the game developed by Critical Force Ltd. as well as adding all kinds of content that provides new and fun gameplay and confrontation.

When the Counter-Strike phenomenon came out, many wondered when it would be possible to play a mobile title as good, entertaining and dynamic as the one developed by Valve. Critical Ops manages to capture that essence and bring it to the screens of mobile phones and tablets. That the proposal is free to download makes the best players succeed. Within the platform it is possible to access a system of medals that demonstrate what level each user has. Do not miss the opportunity to participate in intense games full of strategies with this free app.
