GARENA INTERNATIONAL I PRIVATE LIMITED

Garena Free Fire is developed by Garena Studios and is one of the last Battle Royale games that are here to stay and, above all, to enjoy a large number of users from around the world. You can enjoy this good game and even personalize your protagonist with unique cloths

Garena Free Fire has become in recent weeks one of the most downloaded games for mobile devices, thanks to the increasing number of lovers of Battle Royale or what is the same, fighting against everything and everyone. There is an increasing number of titles of this type, but without a doubt the market is huge and there is room for everyone.

After trying this game, we can tell you that you are going to find an exceptional game, with well-worked graphics and enormous gameplay. Of course, there are things that do not vary compared to other games of this type, and it is nothing other than the enormous difficulty involved, especially the first times we jump onto the battlefield.

Surely you have already read many tips, but if we have to give you any, we must tell you to choose the landing site very well, without rushing and looking for an area where you can see resources and especially buildings that are often synonymous with good omens. Once on land, equip yourself with everything you find and try to expose yourself as little as possible.

If you like this type of game, Garena Free Fire is a great option, which can be downloaded completely free of charge both from Google Play and from the App Store. Of course, if you do not like hitting shots, hiding, and fighting against a huge number of constraints, it is better that you opt for another game and do not spend a lot of storage space in this game that is possibly not going to bring you any nothing.

Advantages of being in a Clan when downloading Garena Free Fire

If you want to know what a clan is for in this game you can create one and choose the way in which the other members can join either automatically or with prior approval from you after requesting to enter the clan. There is limited space for 30 clan members when you start, you complete missions and the clan advances levels. The more level the clan has, the more benefits it has and unlocks options such as adding more people. The moment you advance the level and new users are unlocked you will find them in the part where it says application next to the list of members.

You can also add a Slogan such as Always support and a Newsletter that says Subscribe to the clan channel on YouTube or something else that you want to comment in the form of news for users who see your clan file.

In what are the members of this clan you can promote them, expel them for example if they do not like their behavior because you can also play with the clan players or maybe they have a rude nickname or something inappropriate, you can expel them.

In Details, you have the clan experiences and it tells you what you need to advance as well as what you currently have, and see what the advantages that the level gives you are good for or if you have any rewards or savings that you have. It indicates the level of experience you have, Gold, daily gold limit, people limit, it all depends on the type of clan level you are in, it is likely that the privileges change and the benefits increase.

If you click on Tournament you also have advantages because it will show you the badges of the season such as the clan rewards or the personal rewards, they usually give you gold or vouchers of infinite tokens for 24 hours or of survival skills. To claim personal rewards you need to have money saved.

In what are your friends because you can invite your clan friends and if you have no friends during the game as well. It is interesting to play in a clan because they help you to climb faster in what is the qualifier and apart from this you are always with friends or creating new friends and that's great!

This is basically an explanation of what a Clan is for, since as you saw it is very important. We encourage you to Join!
